

ACTIVITY 7

SHOW & TELL ON SEASONAL FRUITS & VEGETABLES

ACTION PLAN

ACTIVITY -4

Show & Tell on Seasonal Fruits and Vegetables

Grade – I and II

Students will be assigned seasonal fruits or vegetables from three countries: India, Mexico, and Turkey. Each student will individually prepare and present 3–5 simple lines about their assigned item, covering its name, season, health benefits, and cultural significance. Presentations will be supported by real samples, flashcards, drawings, or posters. Props and costumes related to the countries or seasonal produce may be used to enhance engagement.

Preparation Phase:

- Teachers will introduce the seasonal produce of each country using storytelling, pictures, videos, and charts.
- Students will prepare their short speeches and create visual aids (posters, drawings, flashcards).
- Parents will be encouraged to support their children at home with simple practice and worksheets.
- Props and costumes matching the theme or country will be prepared in class to add authenticity

Presentation Phase:

- Each child will individually come forward to present their item with visual aids.
- Presentations will be done using a microphone or pretend podium setup.
- Teachers will moderate, ask follow-up questions, and encourage peer interaction.
- Classrooms will be decorated with flags and seasonal motifs of the three countries.

Title: "Show & Tell on Seasonal Fruits and Vegetables."

Dear Parents,
Greetings!

We are pleased to inform you that as part of our school's ongoing efforts to strengthen global learning under the RIDS (Recognition of International Dimensions in Schools) Certification by the British Council, we are conducting an activity titled "Show & Tell on Seasonal Fruits and Vegetables."

This activity is designed to enhance students' public speaking skills and global awareness through the study of seasonal produce. Students will explore the health benefits and cultural significance of fruits and vegetables from India, Mexico, and Turkey.

IMPORTANT DETAILS:

Countries Involved: India, Mexico, and Turkey

Grades Involved: Grads 1 & 2

Activity Date: 9 December 2025

Objectives of the Activity

- Understanding the seasons, health benefits, and cultural importance of various fruits and vegetables.
- Enhancing verbal expression through individual presentations and short speeches.
- Exploring seasonal motifs and traditional produce from diverse nations.

Flow of the Activity:

- Teachers will introduce seasonal produce using storytelling, videos, and charts.
- Each child will individually present their item using a microphone or pretend podium setup. Presentations will be supported by real samples or visual aids.
- Classrooms will be decorated with flags and seasonal motifs from the three countries to add authenticity to the learning experience.

Request to Parents:

We request parents to support their children at home with simple practice and worksheets. Please share a short feedback message with the class teacher on how your child enjoyed this interactive learning session.

Thank you for your cooperation.

TEACHER OBSERVATION NOTES

Teacher Observation Notes Show & Tell on Seasonal Fruits & Vegetables

- Sensory & Kinesthetic learning:
Students displayed high tactile engagement when handling "real samples" of produce.
- Linguistic & verbal development:
The successful use of "comparative language" was noted. Students weren't just naming fruits, they were beginning to compare them.
- Cross-cultural connections:
Students demonstrated "Global citizenship" by identifying Turkey and Mexico on the classroom world map.
- Scientific & Nutritional awareness:
Students showed an emerging understanding of sustainability, recognizing that eating "seasonal" produce is better for the planet than eating imported, out of season items.

Overall Observation

This activity integrated use of visual aids, physical objects, and oral narration to develop intercultural proficiency of students, thereby developing a respectful curiosity toward the dietary habits of other nations.
